DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 6,391,217 issued to Schafer et al.

Schaffer teaches the process as claimed. See: Figures 2A-3C; column 1, lines 43-48; column 1, line 65 – column 2, line 5; column 2, lines 15-20 and 42-55; column 5, lines 15-20; column 5, line 60 – column 6, line 10; column 6, lines 35-40; column 8, lines 40-55 and examples 2 and 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Willson et al. in US Patent Application Publication 2003/02115577 (hereinafter, Willson).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Willson discloses the same process as presently being claimed. However, Willson refers to an electric field rather than an electromagnetic field as presently being claimed. The specification does not clearly establish that there is any difference between the two methods. However, if applicant demonstrates such a difference the examiner considers it obvious to use an electromagnetic field because Willson teaches using an electric field and there would be no reason why one skilled in the art would not expect the electric field component of an electromagnetic field to perform in the same manner as the electric field of Willson.

Double Patenting

Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,908,861. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed electric filed of '861 is encompassed by the presently claimed electromagnetic field.

Claims 1-20 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over the claims of copending Application No. 09/905,718. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed electric filed of '718 is encompassed by the presently claimed electromagnetic field.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
